GIRLS IN CAMP AT ROTARDALE SAFE AFTER BAD STORM

Girls in Camp Rotardale were sleeping comfortably when the storm broke Sunday night. Streets of water started down the camp street through the open plaza. Thunder and lightning woke the campers and down in Happy Hollow where the extra tents had been placed, one girl reached for her flashlight only to find that the water was nearly up to the cot.

Miss West gave the alarm, called her forces together and clad in a bathing suit uniform got all the girls out of the tents and into the dining hall where the rest of the night was spent.

The night shoe and one left shoe floated away and an amount of searching could find it. Happy Hollow tents were moved to higher ground Monday.

The camp closes Saturday.

Proponents of the measure declare it would benefit the cities and villages greatly, removing the necessity of continually appealing to the legislature for enabling acts. It is also claimed it would prevent the legislature from interfering in municipal affairs.

This bill has been passed by two successive legislatures and has been endorsed by the Wisconsin County Boards' association.

CUT IN OPERA SALARIES URGED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Dresden.—A movement has been started in Germany to limit the salaries of opera stars and stage celebrities generally. Vigorous protests here and elsewhere have been filed against the high price of theater seats, which, the managers contend, have been made necessary because of the large salaries demanded by artists before they will appear.

MIXED JURY PLAN HELD BIG SUCCESS

Judge Grimm Unquestionably
Endorses Idea of Letting Women Serve.

The law passed by the Wisconsin legislature making women eligible to jury service was a long stride in the line of progress toward improved administration of the law. Judge George Grimm of the circuit court recently informed the New York League of Women Voters.

Miss G. Andrews, chairman of the league's legislative committee, recently wrote Judge Grimm for an opinion on the matter. The league is attempting to secure the passage of an act giving women full jury power in that state.

"With our system of selecting all jurors through jury commissioners appointed by the judges, and who invariably get intelligent and representative men and women for the service," Judge Grimm replied.

"When the law first went into effect I instructed my commissioners to make up their lists 50 per cent men and 50 per cent women. This was partly because it was feared that the lawyers might not take kindly to the innovation; and partly because it was not known how many of the women would ask to be excused from service. You know our law provides (and I believe it was pursuant to my suggestion) that any woman drawn could ask to be excused from service, either for the whole term or from any particular case or cases, without offering any reason therefor, and the court would have to excuse her. Of course, if many availed themselves of that privilege it would be necessary to issue a further venire, which would cause both expense and delay.

"But I soon found that the women summoned, instead of being reluctant, were willing and even anxious to serve; that they never asked to be excused from service except for very good reasons, which they usually stated on presenting; that they followed the testimony closely; that they conscientiously endeavored to apply the law as given them by the judge in his charges; and to subordinate to duty any prejudices or preconceived notions they may have entertained; that the influence of their presence had a wholesome effect on the men jurors, and tended to keep acrimony, anger and discourteousness out of the discussion of the evidence when the case was finally submitted to them for decision. In brief, I found that a mixed jury service was not only a complete success, but a decided betterment of our jury system.

Many complaints have been received at the local postoffice since the withdrawal from sale of the treasury saving certificates. It is stated by Postmaster J. J. Cunningham, who received an answer from the postoffice department Wednesday acknowledging his report of the condition. The letter, coming from the office of the third assistant postmaster general, states that the sale or withdrawal of the certificates is entirely under the jurisdiction of the treasury department, the post offices simply being used as a means of distributing them, and that there is no possibility of their being placed on sale again at least within the next few months.

PONZI'S TERM AS U. S. CONVICT ENDS

Finance "Wizard" Released
After 4 Years in Pen; State
Action Next.

Accompanied by a deputy sheriff, he went to Boston to try to arrange for the furnishing of $14,000 bail required of him on charges brought in the state courts in connection with his financial schemes.

Four years ago Ponzi attracted the attention of the whole country by his offer to pay huge interest on short term investments in his securities exchange company of Boston, which purported to operate a plan of dealing in international postal reply coupons and to be making great profits through the depreciation in foreign exchange. Thousands of persons entrusted millions to him and many of them received the promised profits. Finally the authorities stepped in and closed up the business. Ponzi was convicted in the federal courts on charges of using the mails in a scheme to defraud. He was sentenced to jail for five years. With the usual remittances for good behavior, this term expired today.
